Artificially Ripened Home Grown Dates

An interesting exhibit is being made in a Tucson show window of artificially ripened home grown dates. Dr. A. E. Vinson, biochemist of the experimental station, announces that these experiment-made one of the important advances in the technique of date growing upon a commercial scale in Arizona.

The Citizen says that Dr. Vinson recently found that the ripening process may be initiated by treating the unripe fruit with a great variety of chemicals. These substances seem to act as stimulants and once started, the ripening goes on naturally. The final product is fully equal to that ripened on the tree. By the artificial process the whole bunch may be ripened at once instead of individual points over a period of several weeks as occurs when left to mature.

Another advantage of the method is that the fruit may be shipped green and ripened at their destination like bananas are handled.

James Critchley, Jr., Is Accidentally Killed

Regarding the sad death of James Critchley, formerly of Tombstone, the Review prints the following details:

Crushed beneath a broken chute at the Ocar mine, James Critchley, Jr., aged 22, a well known miner, met death shortly before 1 o'clock this morning. He was working between the third and fourth levels with Ed Cook, and was directly underneath one of the motor chutes used to convey ore to the motor cars for loading. The chute gave way and Critchley was caught underneath and killed.

Critchley was well known. His father, who is employed in the Spry shaft, was called from his work and told of the affair. He hastened to the Ocar and saw the mangled body of his son brought to the surface. Coroner High impelled a jury and will hold an inquest today. The body was taken to the O. K. undertaking parlors.

Will Collect Raise on Patented Mines

Unless enjoined from doing so in each instance County Tax Collector Hicks will endeavor to collect the raise made by the Territorial Board of Equalization on the patented mines of Cochise county. He has been advised by District Attorney Williams that it is his duty to do so as that amount of taxes are charged up to him on the tax roll. Mr. Hicks will accept no partial payments on property, that is he will not accept the county and territorial taxes levied on mining property unless the money is also forthcoming for the territorial raise. This practice has been done heretofore but will not be followed by him. It is all or none this time.

Motions in the case may be heard as early as Friday of this week, as it is the pleasure of both the Yuma city attorney and the attorney general to dispose of the case as early as possible, so that some disposition may be made of the improvements at the old territorial penitentiary, which are involved in the suit.

Some of the members of the board of supervisors are said to oppose calling the election on the grounds that there are not sufficient funds in the county treasury to defray the expense of the election and meet other running expenses of the county.

Work was completed on the new gas plant at Nogales last week and the border city from this time on will enjoy this luxury.

Who Will be the Honored Ones?

Sleepless nights are being spent by Governor Sloan who, when he consented to become governor of this territory, barely realized the big chasm he would have to bridge to get safely over rough roads.

Governor Sloan is now trying to select 24 Arizonans to accompany President Taft through Arizona, and if rumor has it right, Selim Michelson of Phoenix, national democrat committeeman, will be the only democrat among the 24.

Already Governor Sloan has made up a tentative of the "24" who will travel through the territory so close to the throne that they will be constantly within handshaking distance of Taft.

To back in the effulgence of the Taft "smile" is now the ambition of every republican in Arizona and not a few democrats.

More backing will be done by Sloan's "24" than by all the rest of the common people, who will have to gaze on the president from afar.

As the names of probable members of Sloan's "24" become known, there is much heart-burning among Arizonans who have not heard their names pronounced.

When President Taft reaches Prescott one week from today he will meet with one of the most agreeable surprises he has come face to face with in his long journey through the country. It will be that memorable event that will take him back to his school days when a boy, and after forty years have passed he will be greeted by his former school teacher in Cincinnati in Mrs. Mar. B. Cullumber, a prominent resident of Prescott.
